Starting point/trailhead: Vallada Agordina – hamlet of Toffol
Coordinates: Geogr. 46.450377,12.059689
Loop

Si parte da loc. Toffol seguendo il sentiero CAI n. 465. Il percorso riserva bellezze naturali e spunti paesaggistici straordinari: torrenti Loschesuoi e “delle Baste”, il gruppo Cernerera , il Ponte di Sasso, il Piz del Corvo. Vale la pena soffermarsi ad ammirare la ricchezza del manto floreale alpino. Si raggiunge un vasto bacino poco frequentato e per questo luogo di pascolo dei camosci. Di fronte si possono ammirare i Lastoi di Formin e le cime di Pelmo e Civetta, mentre dalla cima del Piz del Corvo si può godere di un panorama sulle Dolomiti a 360°.

From the hamlet of Toffol, where it is possible to park the car, go up through the characteristic houses and cottages (CAI trail sign No. 465 at the corner of a barn). Here the municipal road becomes a grassy cart. A few meters after being forwarded, turn right near an aqueduct storage tank to cross the Loschiesuoi stream. You reach a pleasant clearing which, turning on the left, goes up the valley to enter into the beautiful forest of firs, where the sheep track becomes a marked trail. With a good incline, follow the evocative wild valley of the Loschiesuoi stream, accompanied by the murmur of its clear waters. Leaving the woods, after just over an hour's walk and crossing the stream "delle Baste", you climb a grassy slope that, after the curious particular slit called "Sass Strenc" reaches a junction with clear signals: you leave here the path 465 which continues under the slopes of the Cernerà group, and turns right to the nearby Ponte di Sasso and then to the Piz del Corvo. The place is so beautiful that it is worth stopping to admire the particular architecture that has formed naturally over the river and, in summer, for the richness of alpine flora that colors the surrounding prairies. After crossing the natural bridge you reach a pleasant wide basin, this area is not very popular among the tourists so it is the ideal habitat where the chamois live: it is advisable to have binoculars and a camera so you can admire these magnificent animals. The path is marked by red stamps and passes by channeling to the right and circumscribing the slopes of Piz del Corvo. Opposite the lava walls of Corvo Alto and above the Lastoi di Formin wall stand out. At the top of the grass saddle appear the overwhelming Pelmo and the Civetta. Here a wooden table indicates to the right the last steep climb to reach the top of the Piz del Corvo (cross and peak book) from where you can admire a 360 ° panorama of the Dolomites. Return to the saddle, follow the signs on the right of the wooden poles with a red tip, along the entire prairie to reach the marked ruins of Casera Vallazza. Continue downhill, crossing a stream that forms the Sacuz stream, to always follow the beautiful red poles until you reach the underlying CAI path n. 466 near the Cordon stream. Go along it, going down to the right to the valley of Mondeval di Sotto. This leads to the asphalted wood road that reaches the village of Toffol. This itinerary is a bit difficult and long if you're not used to long excursions, but at the end of the day when you are back at home, you'll feel slightly tired but completely regenerated. The vision of a chamois in his natural unspoiled habitat is very frequent here and it will be an experience for you and for your children that you'll never forget.
